gifts for your wife in one place at affordable prices.

Karva Chauth is evidenced by the immense love and dedication of a wife for her husband and her willingness to make sacrifices for his well-being. This year, it will be celebrated on October 13th, 2022. The festival of Karva Chauth, which ensures the well-being, prosperity, and longevity of the husband, is a one-day fast that gives an opportunity to all married women to strengthen their bond with their husbands and her in-laws.

Though the pandemic of COVID-19 has dampened the festival a bit but not been the enthusiasm of the people. Like every year, this time too, women are observing a fast with the same zeal.

“If we look at the graph, The demand for Karwa Chauth gifts seems to have seen an increase of over 100% in 2021 as compared to 2019. We are expecting that the Karva Chauth gift-giving business in 2022 will definitely continue with the growth trend. Tier 1 cities across the country have seen a drastic change in shopping behavior and gifting trends. It is estimated that this year's market will be more than 10000 + crores”. said SEO Himahsu Chwala in an interview

“These are those precious and special moments of life which not only fill the life of husband and wife with love but also unite them in an unbreakable bond of feelings and emotions,” said Himashu Chawla.

For married men, this is an ideal day to pamper their wives and show their gratitude and affection towards them with loving gestures.
