

Kieren Alkemade, Director Made Development Group Announces Complete Decking and Landscaping Packages for your Property

Director, Made Development Group – Kieren Alkemade has earned an unmatched reputation in the building industry because of having a great track record of providing impeccable building, renovation and Decking and Landscaping solutions to its customers.

understand that the outdoor appearance of your business or home is as important as your interior. We have a team of decking and landscaping specialists that will consult with you to determine your exact needs. Made Development Group, founded in 2012 by its owner Kieren Alkemade, provides building construction, renovations, landscape enhancement, and maintenance services. They service both residential and commercial customers.

Kieren Alkemade has built a brand centered around quality work, attentive customer service, and a commitment to excellence in everything as a company, they do. Keeping this in mind the group has introduced a complete package for your construction and landscaping together. There are a few other interesting deals for their old clients and customers.

A happy customer said, "Kieren and his team have an impeccable reputation and share the passion for landscape management".

As Made Development Group continues to scale and expand its regional presence, it decided to provide a complete package for its customers who ask for decking and landscaping. The prime time is Fall, to plan for complete maintenance tasks and to ensure a healthy, vital landscape later in spring.

Kieren's idea of using hardscape materials to mimic real wood and natural stone without the associated maintenance has become a favorite among his customers. Kieren says, "They are less susceptible to degrading from harsh weather conditions, an especially desirable quality during the fall and winter".

The group has also included many latest and trending choices for their customers including faux finishes and materials on outdoor furniture, such as synthetics that look like real leather.

The landscaping ideas and their look are sure to exceed the greatest expectations. Maintaining a landscape becomes a large and time-consuming chore. Kieren Alkemade says, "We know that when our customers are looking for a landscaper they trust us with the first impression people have of their home or business to us".

When Made development group works with new or existing customers their primary goal is to make sure that their customers and clients are happy. Because this helps in building a long-term relationship. Their landscaping and maintenance services are among the best in the Redfern area and are expanding.

A spokesperson said, "Our years of experience in landscaping and decking have made us one of the highest-ranked companies in the Redfern area. Our commitment to excellence and a high level of customer service is what sets Made Development Group apart from others".
