

Tips for Budget Vacation in Qatar

Doha, Qatar Nov 16, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - For many reasons, oil-rich countries are not exactly known for being budget-friendly to travel. Unsurprisingly, many think Qatar is not a haven for budget travelers, one of the world's wealthiest nations per capita. Over a decade, FGREALTY has proved to be the one-stop consulting for finding the most luxurious properties in Qatar. Our real estate agents help you find the most valuable properties for rent or ownership throughout the Emirate state.

That's a myth, and we will detail how you can plan a budget vacation in Qatar, availing best holiday apartment rent.

Qatar is a visitor's paradise

Qatar is not just an oil-rich country but also very hospitable. Of the total population in Qatar, 2.3 million people are foreigners, around 88% of the population. The reason such a large number of expats chose the Middle Eastern country as their home is because of the high standard of living it offers.

You can easily find affordable short-term furnished apartments for rent in Doha if you know where to look.

Look for stopover deals

A large chunk of your traveling expense consists of airfare. If you want to plan cheap vacations in Qatar, you should keep an eye on steal deals offered by Qatar Airways. As one of the biggest airlines in the world, Qatar Airways provides deals for budget travelers from time to time to make it affordable for them to travel to Qatar.

One of the lucrative deals you want to look for is the Qatar Airways and Discover Qatar tourism partnership offer that offers a cheap stay for as little as US$14 per night. If you think that's for some budget hotel, no! This offer makes it dirt cheap to stay at some of the most popular four-star accommodations. When you have the option to get a standard four-night stopover starting at just US$69, we think there is no cheaper way to experience Qatar.

Consider couch surfing

While a very lucrative offer, what if you are not visiting Doha on a stopover deal? Then you will have to look for properties for rent in Qatar that are available for a budget. If you are a traveler, you must be accustomed to staying at budget hostels. Unfortunately, Qatar is not yet known to be big on the hostel thing.

For travelers on a particularly tight budget, couch surfing is a worthwhile option. It is an option to available privately rented rooms and apartments that are much cheaper than other real estate Qatar options. Just visit the Couchsurfing platform in Qatar, which has over 18,000 registered hosts, and you'll find hundreds of affordable stay options. Most registered people on the platform are expats, so you will have no problem finding compatible hosts.

Get in touch with us

FGREALTY has established itself as one of the most trusted real estate agencies for expats to explore properties for rent in Qatar. We have been offering our services since 2012 and have helped hundreds of foreigners find a property that matches their style and budget. With FIFA 2022 World Cup around the corner, it will not be easy for you to plan budget travel. Qatar is expected to welcome 1.5 million football fans, and accommodations will be scarce throughout the soccer season.

Hotel rooms are fully booked, and the Qatari government has introduced a Holiday Home License program to allow citizens and residents to offer their property for rent. Given the high demand for accommodation, the holiday apartments rent is soaring multi-folds. How will you find short-term furnished apartments for rent in Doha in such a hyped real estate market? Easy. You reach out to one of our agents.

We help you find properties for rent in Qatar within your budget. You can explore our short-term stay options, starting at as little as QAR 1,821 daily. FGREALTY is a professional service, and we ensure that you always have the best deals to make your Qatar stay cheaper.

Utilize the cheap transportation options

To travel within the country, there are several affordable options available. You have the gleaming new Doha Metro service that connects all major tourist spots in the city. The average ride costs just QAR 2 and is capped at QAR 6 per day. Uber service is also surprisingly cheap in Qatar. And if you plan to go outside the capital city, you can enjoy the ride of public Karwa buses. You can travel throughout the country, spending as little as QAR 20. That's a bargain, given the unexpectedly high living standards of Qatar.

Conclusion

We hope these tips will help you plan a budget vacation in Qatar. We covered everything from airfare to stay to travel. You don't have to rely on expensive hotels for food and drinks. Qatar has an abundance of cheap eats. The streets of Doha are lined with eateries offering you cuisines ranging from authentic Korean fried chicken to South Indian thalis.

And for short-term furnished apartments for rent in Doha, you can contact our agents anytime.

Media Contact

FGREALTY

fgrealty7@gmail.com

+(974) 3045 1451

Al Jazeera Tower, Doha, Qatar

Source : <https://www.fgrealty.qa/>

See on IssueWire