

Vercmagnus The American Artist Behind Fabric Collages

The Contemporary Minimalist Artist Vercmagnus

New York City, New York Oct 20, 2022 (IssueWire.com) - Vercmagnus

Vercmagnus, also known as V. Estuardo, is an American artist who focuses on watercolor, acrylic paints, collages, photography & new media art as his mediums and styles.

Vercmagnus is a traveler and an entrepreneur who loves to explore new things in different countries.

Nature, fashion, and technology influence his creative imagination.

He is an emerging artist who started as a watercolorist. He soon painted using inks and started exploring the world of digital art.

His artworks vary in genre. The abstract is his main subject in different forms. Minimalism, collages using fabrics and other mediums, and geometric characters are mostly seen in his art pieces.

He has done several solo exhibitions in the United States since the year 2010.

As a young child, he tried to explore the world of poetry but it seemed it was not enough. So he decided to put colors into his hobbies. That is when watercolor flourished as his first medium.

When he was younger in his high school years, he explained that he had not enjoyed much the world of inks, painting nothing but school, and several ceramic classes. "I am more like school and work during college days too. But it all started with QueenNoble. She introduced me to art because she believed that I had this suppressed talent that I might have missed. But you know, she was right. I wanted colors on my poetry essays and I did need ink but I started as a watercolorist back in 2010 and slowly changed my mediums. You gotta listen to a big sister or the master.", he answered during a short interview in New York year 2022.

His artworks can be seen in online art galleries such as Saatchiart, QueenNoble, Fine Art America, and others.

His artworks extend to fashionable apparel, home decor such as rugs, and more.
