The CEO and founder of Calmfidence Academy was recognized for her exceptional contribution to the education industry.

Hamburg, Germany Nov 13, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - Nell Puetter, a visionary founder and CEO of education center Calmfidence® Academy granted as a special honor the Outstanding Leadership Award at the Education 2.0 Conference in Dubai.

A certified Positive Psychology trainer and Core Transformation coach, Nell Puetter was recognized for her exceptional contribution to the education industry, particularly on the topic of Self-Leadership Inside Out, which she specializes in. Calmfidence® Academy is her education center that designs programs to help individuals achieve their goals and overcome their limitations through inner-work methods.

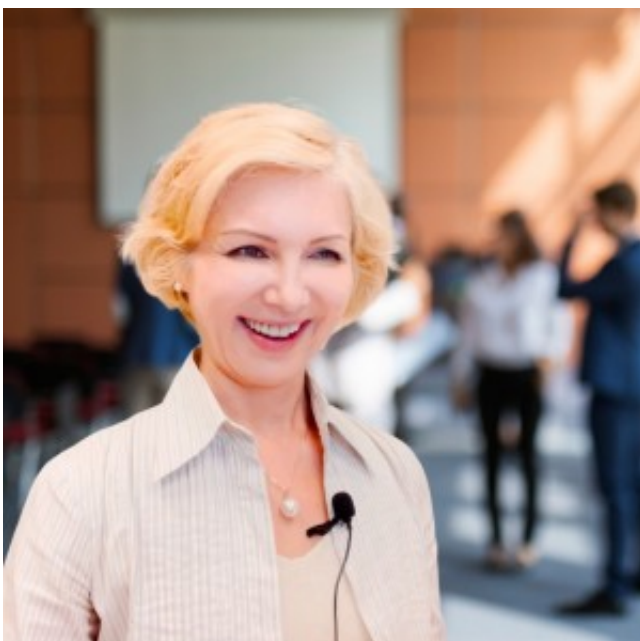

Nell Puetter has been teaching inside-out transformation to people all over the world, employing a wide range of inner-work methodologies, because of its profound, holistic, effective, and easy applicability to a wide range of subjects, whether at work or home.

“Learning to master self-leadership inside out is crucial because one will ultimately succeed or fail based on her or his ability to effectively navigate the inner world,” said the leadership awardee. “And most importantly, having built a healthy relationship with the self.”

The leadership award recipient helps transform people through one-on-one sessions she offers in her boutique private coaching practice for self-leadership in her hometown in Hamburg, Germany. She also offers her expertise online via Zoom in English, German, and Russian languages. Apart from these, Nell Puetter also delivers customized workshops on self-leadership and emotional intelligence for entrepreneurs and management groups as part of her Wellbeing@Work initiative. Nell Puetter authored the book Blueprint of Core Calmfidence.
