

Design Bundles Shares 5 DIY Craft Creative Projects For Spare Fabric

Ann Arbor, Michigan Nov 12, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - Design Bundles, the leading marketplace for creatives, understands how spare fabric can pile up. Though you probably use most of the fabric you bought for a particular project, there are always the inevitable leftovers.

Saving your ends or leftovers can result in tubs of fabric in a variety of colours, designs, and textures. Upcycling is a great way to make use of extra material, but coming up with crafting projects for scraps isn't always an easy task.

Thankfully, Design Bundles has created a list of five projects to make with spare fabric - this creative fabric makes are too good to miss!

- Fun fabric coasters

Even during Winter, we all love a nice cold beverage, but condensation is a pain. When your glasses start to sweat, you usually bring out the wooden coasters to catch the moisture drops, but there is a better solution: a fun fabric coaster. Fabric is soft and will absorb moisture, unlike firm coasters, meaning you don't have that annoying pool of liquid at the bottom of your glass. Why not be creative and use your spare fabric to make fun little coasters? The job is quick, easy, and creative, as well as being a very good conversation starter!

- Cute napkin rings

Formal silver napkin rings are perfect for fancy dining experiences, but what about the more casual friendly get-together? Scrap material can be used to create sweet napkin rings - creating a statement only takes a few inches of fabric.

- Creative Christmas ornaments

It's nearly that most festive time of year! What better way to prepare than to create Christmas ornaments with your spare fabric? It's one way to ensure your Christmas experience will be one-of-a-kind, never to be replicated.

- Fabric keychain

A fantastic way of using up your spare fabric is to create key chain rounds. Fun, simple and adorable, you can make keychains that are so distinctive you'll never lose your keys again. What's more, you can use them as gifts your friends and family will absolutely love.

- Wireless earbuds case

This one might take a bit more care, attention, and effort, but the results are incredible. Almost everyone these days has a pair of wireless earbuds, but they rarely have a fun, fashionable home. A wireless earbud case would be the perfect gift this Christmas for your company's Secret Santa, or as a thank-you gift for your child's teacher - what an amazing way to be creative with fabric leftovers!
