Creating Rajasthani Hiphop waves within the music with many hits and viral songs has garnered a lot of love and fame.

The way in which certain passionate and spirited professionals have been scaling heights of success in the current golden era of generation has been simply incredible. Going beyond boundaries and pushing many limits, these talented professionals seek excellence in each and every endeavour. The music industry as a sector and niche has been one of the growing domains where different artists, singers, songwriters, producers, and composers have been able to reach millions of audiences around the world. Raising in a small village Harasar, he has achieved so much, It is very difficult to come up with such music from any village where people do not even know hip hop. He is very much in love with his village, therefore he has also built a music studio in the village itself, in which he records songs of hardworking artists and gives the music. Creating one's own space and a Rajasthani Music aura in the hearts of the audiences is a tough task, Thats why music artists and singers like Nit-C Nakhrala are what makes them different from others.
