The promising new rapper from South London Noble1BOF tells the story of his life through his music, as seen in tracks like 'No Games', 'Early in the Morning' and 'Ain't Like Us'.

London, Nov 23, 2022 (IssueWire.com) - Promising an emotive escape into the soundscape of free-flowing rap, up-and-coming artist from South London Noble1BOF has released some of the most amazing rap tracks of all time titled 'No Games', 'Early in the Morning' and 'Ain't Like Us'. The tracks portray the artist's unique ability to unite his ability for storytelling and his musicality into a single strike that is simultaneously entertaining and deeply moving.

'No Games' begins with suspenseful music and sets a cinematic ambiance. The streaming rap of the artist mingles with the strong sensual vocals of Carla, creating a magnetic vibe that agitates and slithers into our minds. 'Early in the Morning' starts with a melodious hook by R. Brown, backed by an injection of classic hip-hop and booming bass. 'Ain't Like Us' abounds in ethereal elements that render the song genuine depth and an unyielding self-belief. The three tracks portray three different styles that stand as proof of the artist's versatility when it comes to his musical ability.

Noble1BOF had been writing since 2005 but since 2019 he started taking his music journey seriously, after being released from prison for the 3rd time. His music speaks about his life and experiences, as well as things that he sees others go through. His musical interest was piqued by Styles P and he has been inspired by rappers like Drake, Skrapz, and Ghetts. With a reputation for creating enthralling music like 'Sometimeish' and 'Time is Money', the singer is surely going places.
