We value collaboration and integrity and take pride in our work.

We are incredibly proud to announce that The Manifest has named Systango one of the leading and most-reviewed big data companies for 2022!

For context, The Manifest is a business news and how-to site. The platform showcases top agencies from different industries worldwide. It aims to help businesses find the best-fit service providers.

Husband and Wife, Nilesch and Vinita Rathi founded Systango in 2007 to help solve their clients' three main issues: lack of in-house technology experts, a limited talent pool, and developers with business domain knowledge. Since then, we've earned multiple recognitions from different prestigious award-giving organisations.

In March 2022, Headroom, a healthcare company based in the UK, asked us to build a Web App. Not only that we build the platform, but we also integrated the platform with key functionalities such as a custom algorithm-based matching tool and automating various aspects of the delivery system.

"The systems delivered have adhered to the original specification and are now being used routinely." – Steve Rock, Director, Headroom

At Systango, we establish ourselves as technology partners to our customers, we contribute to the decision-making and deliver quality over quantity.
