

The Remodel Advisors Launches a Unique Platform to Help Property Owners Remodel on Their Own Terms

Company is looking to transform the remodeling industry in the United States by giving control to property owners.

Los Angeles, California Nov 10, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - TheRemodelAdvisors.com is announcing the launch of a new platform that will allow property owners in North America to transform the way they remodel their properties. Homeowners and real estate investors will have access to educational products and services to help them minimize risk while working with contractors. The Remodel Advisors is now open and ready to partner with property owners.

Contractors are notorious for being unreliable and bad project managers. Contractors who are good at managing projects usually charge a premium. It is true. However, contractors are necessary to complete remodeling projects. Remodeling the wrong way can be expensive, time-consuming, and inconvenient. Sticking to schedules, and creating budgets can be a hit-or-miss experience all while property owners are being strung along, losing time and money.

The Remodel Advisors will close the gap between wanting a successful remodel and actually getting one with the TheRemodelAdvisors.com platform. Gone are the days when property owners have to roll the dice, hoping to get the results they want. The platform will ensure that property owners never have to go at it alone ever again.

Construction companies have a higher failure rate than companies in other industries. The Census Bureau states that construction companies are likely to fail at 1.5 times the normal rate. This is due greatly to mismanagement and this mismanagement pours into their projects, causing projects to go over budget and time. Despite this failure rate, construction in the United State is a trillion-dollar industry. It is necessary for property owners to minimize their risk while choosing and working with contractors.

"We're thrilled to be launching such a unique solution that will help make the lives of property owners easier and help increase the success of all their projects," said DC Cayce, Founder of TheRemodelAdvisors.com. "We're looking to transform the industry by giving property owners the tools they need to control their projects."

The Remodel Advisors platform offers several services such as Remodel Advice, Remodel Plans, and Remodel Coaching that will help property owners achieve their desired results while remodeling - improving the overall industry.
