

A press article on the writer, blogger and content creator Abdullah Nassar

About the writer Abdullah Nassar and his new book

Karbala, Iraq Dec 18, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - Many people go towards fields that are completely different from their field of study. You see the doctor working in the content industry, and you see the engineer on television in Ramadan in a dramatic work, and you see them achieving successes that they did not expect to achieve. Likewise, Abdullah Nassar, who is known as "Al-Zowini", is an Iraqi student. At the Faculty of Medicine, specializing in dentistry, Istinye University, in Istanbul, Turkey.

Abdullah holds a certificate in the basics of digital marketing from Google

He holds a certificate of effective electronic attendance.

And also a certificate of self-marketing

And writing content from the Twitter platform, meaning that he is familiar with many talents and experiences that did not mold him in one place

And now he surprises us that he is Abdullah Nassar, the writer who found himself in writing and writing despite his love for the field of medicine, which has always been his dream, but he always felt a hidden talent and skill as a writer who wanted to show it to the public, and he showed this with his new book, which is entitled "From Four Months". This book dealt with many poems and thoughts in which he expressed what he went through in his life, the events that took place around him and his movements to many countries, and how he has now become the person he wanted since he became responsible for himself and how many difficulties and obstacles he faced. In life.

On the first page of the book, Abdullah Nassar wrote a dedication to the readers and friends, headed by his father, mother, and another unknown person:

To everyone who read the book, everyone who supported me from friends and family, and everyone who believed in me, and especially I dedicate this book to my father and mother, whose faith in me never ceased and whose encouraging words resounded in my ears, and of course, I will not forget that one who lives in my chest Far from the eye, close to the heart.

The e-book received a great turnout, which made Abdullah comment on the Facebook platform, "I am seriously thinking of printing this book after it won your admiration," and the public commented in support of this decision.

After this decision, within a short time of publishing this article, the book will be published in print, and you can purchase it from the official websites for selling books or from publishing houses for it.

And the beginning of the process of writing the new book" because of the comments very supportive of the decision to publish, and others in question about the identity of this person who wrote about him at the end of the dedication and how much enthusiasm in reading more of his writings.

Book summary:

The book in general tells a story in the form of poems and thoughts, in the form of a complaint, in the form of slander and praise, in the form of given love, in the form of love that has been burned and taken away.

The writer hopes that the words will appeal to the reader's ears and touch his heart, soul, and love for his beloved

The book in general, as we said, is a story, and in any story, there is the main character here, the story. No one is the main character. No one deserves to be the main character in this book.

Trust must be earned, the truth must be earned before it can be the main character

It is possible for the book to have complementary parts, or it is possible for a wanderer to search for its main character to call it a complete book.

According to what the author said:

The book (from four months ago) is looking for the main character for it. Whoever finds the main character of the book, let him write it at the end of the book. Perhaps someone who reads it after you will find it. The character is deserving of it. It is possible that few people understand, or it is a sample of the Hawk's Eye to reveal or find the main subject.

Abdullah is not just a writer but also a blogger and content creator on the YouTube platform, which means that he is far from his field of study just to pursue his passion.

If your studies do not match your dreams and what you would like to do, do not stand still, there is still time ahead of you.
