Chapel Hill, North Carolina Dec 20, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - Addison Consultancy, Ltd a leading global consulting firm that specializes in providing virtual assistants and remote professionals, is thrilled to welcome Richard Mason as Senior Partner.

"We're so excited to have Richard join our team. Recruiting someone of his caliber further strengthens our company's ability to scale in order to meet the needs of our growing customer base. Richard has a wealth of experience building out new markets on a global scale. On behalf of the entire Addison team, we look forward to supporting Richard as he leads the organization to new heights." – Craig Addison, Co-Founding Partner at Addison Consultancy.

Addison Consultancy provides our clients with best-of-class remote professional services that serve as an extension of the businesses we serve.

About Richard Mason

Richard Mason has over 30 years of experience in growing technology services and emerging markets on a global scale.

He has held executive-level positions in sales, marketing, and business development, culminating in his most recent role as EVP of Global Business Sales. Prior to Addison Consultancy, Mr. Mason spent 25 years in various leadership roles with EDS, BancTec, ADP, and Onyx Consulting Group.

Mason has co-founded and invested in several IT services company start-ups that have focused on delivering value to the small and medium enterprise marketplace. He is an award-winning leader who has been recognized throughout his career for accelerating revenue growth, and profitability, driving customer retention while increasing shareholder value.

He also has a relentless passion for solving business challenges and proliferating winning cultures in early-stage ventures and middle-market companies. Richard holds a Masters Certificate in Executive Leadership from Harvard University as well as a Bachelor's degree in Economics and Business Management from Cornell University.

Mr. Mason has served on several prominent boards throughout his career and is currently the Vice President and Board Member for the Association of Information Technology Professionals (AITP), a nationally renowned leadership organization for IT professionals.

In his free time, Richard enjoys spending time with his family, and friends, and traveling the world. He is also an enthusiastic sports fan and will entertain you on a golf course.

About Addison Consultancy

Addison Consultancy (ADDC) has helped businesses outsource their skilled remote professionals in order to drive business performance.

The company specializes in providing organizations with a range of virtual assistants and remote professional services that are fit to hire as their own. ADDC facilitates the entire process of hiring, training, and managing a team of virtual assistants and remote professionals. Our time-tested and unique process begins with ADDC remote professionals being carefully screened and selected. The end result is skilled professionals that are ready and fit to hire for our customers, which serve as an extension of their own teams. Our services are delivered remotely around the world by virtual assistants who utilize best-of-class online tools such as video conferencing, collaboration tools, file sharing, HR, time-tracking, and much more.
