

July has announced an upcoming release: "Circus"

London, United Kingdom Dec 4, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - July is a talented recording artist and songwriter based in London, UK.

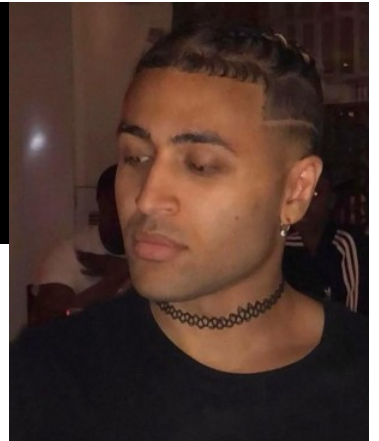

He stands out as one of the most authentic and promising talents in the world of local R&B. He brings so much passion to the table, as well as an uncanny ability to combine different influences. Ever since he released his very first song, "Mood," the artist managed to set the bar higher with quality and integrity, earning new fans and critical praise right off the bat.

He has recently dropped a new release titled "Circus". This release is immediately going to trigger a spark of excitement in any listener who loves great R&B and neo-soul. Not only does "Circus" represent some of the best staple sounds in this genre, but it also brings a fresh wave of innovation and personality to the table. This makes for a truly one-of-a-kind listening experience, placing July as an artist to watch within the music scene.

July channeled his true essence as an artist on "Circus", but at the same time, the song is very "no-frills" and immediately easy to relate to. Fans of artists as diverse as Lionel Richie, P. Diddy, Michael Jackson, Vypz Kartel, Linkin park, and 50 Cent should most definitely check out July's work. "Circus" feels like the next big step in his career and vision.

The track shows that you don't need to overcomplicate things, and that a great song can start from a refreshingly simple melody and a great performance. All the rest is ornamental, but the core of a truly memorable track is all there, ready to inspire the audience and tell a story through music.

Connect with July on social media and do not miss out on "Circus." This release is going to be available from 16.12.2022.
