- Post Graduate Diploma in Data Science & Finance.

The programs have substantial input and participation by top-ranking corporates to improve the employability of students. Economics education in India has not kept pace with developments in the workplace. There is a dearth of post-graduate programs (Data science course, Economics course, and Finance courses) which marry strong theoretical foundations with applied skills necessary for a rapidly globalizing economy. In particular, the Global Financial Crisis and the rise of Big Data have generated a need for a more practical education where students of economics and finance develop a new toolkit to analyze and address real-world problems.

These programs are the best courses after graduation in India MDAE assured 100% placements. MDAE Students Got Admitted to World-Class Universities Abroad. You Can Be One of Them.

“I would like to welcome you to the Meghnad Desai Academy of Economics. Getting into this school is difficult, so good luck to those who make it. The Academy has set very high standards for teaching Economics, Finance, and Data Science to students aspiring to reach the standards of the London School of Economics, where I taught for almost forty years. You will be challenged and stretched to the limits of your capacity, but in the end, you will be amply rewarded with bright career prospects. You will also be able to learn not just from your teachers but also from your fellow students who will be among the brightest. Most importantly, MDAE will teach you in a way that will enable you to observe and understand the world for the rest of your life.” Lord Meghnad Desai, Chairman at MDAE, and Professor Emeritus, London School of Economics.
