

MxTechies Partners with Low-Code Platform Leader Siemens Mendix to Provide World-Class Digital Transformation Solutions

MxTechies has entered into a strategic partnership with Siemens Mendix to provide Mendix Consulting and Advisory and also continue to evolve this landscape and find new business opportunities in the Global Mendix Customer Space.

Delaware city, Delaware Dec 7, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - MxTechies, the leading low-code tech powerhouse providing world-class Digital Transformation Solutions, has announced a partnership with Mendix, a Siemens business and global leader in modern Enterprise Application Development. This collaboration will empower MxTechies to help its customers improve Time-to-Market (TTM), Digital Transformation, Standardisation of Processes, and Cost Savings using Mendix's low-code platform. This partnership comes in close alignment with the rapidly growing customer interest in low-code technology that can provide end users with a rich customer experience.

The MxTechies-Siemens Mendix partnership will combine the resources of both leaders to create unique synergies and exciting opportunities for all companies engaged in digital transformation through the development of low-code initiatives. MxTechies has embraced Mendix solutions due to its extensive experience in low-code technology. Also, MxTechies boasts of having the largest Expert-certified team of developers in Asia. MxTechies will continue to expeditiously develop complex applications and provide seamless digital transformation to its customers.

Speaking about the landmark partnership, MxTechies CEO Praveen Upadhyay said:

“This partnership is the most important milestone for us. Now, Siemens, Mendix, and MxTechies will help in the dramatic transformation of enterprises by considerably reducing the time to market, efforts, and risks involved in developing innovative and robust applications. “

“MxTechies has executed some of the sophisticated low-code implementations globally. We have been offering exemplary support to both our customers and the community in terms of providing seamless integration with vital systems, access to specialized services, and industry-specific adaptable solutions. Our developers have been topping the Mendix Leaderboard consistently. We are also growing exponentially in the Mendix space, and our goal is to add another 100+ Mendix developers in Q1 and Q2. This partnership comes as a great delight to us, and we look forward to revolutionizing and modernizing customers’ IT application development, deployment, and management strategies.”
