

One of The Best Clothing Brands Branching From Boston, Massachusetts

Boston, Massachusetts Dec 20, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - Clothes of Crescent is a clothing brand branching from Boston, Massachusetts owned by Jemaurie Beneche. The brand's main goal is developing motivation for others to just try and pursue their dreams and see what they can make of it. Most of the time people doubt themselves and don't give it a try and he wants to try and bring awareness to that by showing what he has accomplished with his brand over time since he started.

Jemaurie always had a thing for streetwear brands since the 10th grade and since then he was always doing research into the world of starting up a brand. After years of planning, he finally launched his brand in early July 2022. Over time he has gained massive attraction to his online clothing shop with his Instagram social media reaching almost 60k followers. The brand has been seen on some musical artists like TheHxlday.

After years of planning, he finally launched his brand in early July 2022. Over time he has gained massive attraction to his online clothing shop with his Instagram social media reaching over 40k followers. The brand has been seen on some musical artists like TheHxlday.

Media Contact

Clothes of Crescent

crescentzuko@gmail.com

Source : Clothes of Crescent

See on IssueWire