Vilnius, Vilniaus Dec 19, 2022 (IssueWire.com) - RatePunk, a free browser extension finding the best hotel rate, is stepping into 2023 with a new upgrade that's close to a first in the travel industry. A tool comparing hotel prices on different booking websites presents its users with a hotel booking cashback system.

From now on, RatePunk's users will have the possibility to try out a free rewards program that earns reward points towards cashback on eligible hotel bookings. "When you book at participating providers with the RatePunk browser extension, you can get a chance to earn points on your purchase. Every time you book with Cashback activated, we will award you RatePunk coins, and the amount of it will depend on the complete booking value,” said one of the tool’s CEOs, Justin Albertynas.

Every user will get 10 free coins just for joining the RatePunk cashback: 5 for creating an account and another 5 for activating it. When a benchmark of 100 coins is reached, the $10 cashback can be redeemed. “This upgrade will allow our users to earn money by using a free tool, and that’s something the travel industry hasn’t seen before,” added Justin. The CEO also mentioned even more news, such as rebooking and review aggregation available on the extension coming in 2023.

To try the latest cashback update, download the RatePunk browser extension & activate your account for free here: <https://www.ratepunk.com/>.
