Get to know Hospice and Palliative Medicine Specialist Dr. Seo Angela Choi, who serves patients in Flemington, New Jersey.

New York City, New York Dec 16, 2022 (Issuewire.com) - Dr. Choi is a competent hospice and palliative medicine specialist with Hunterdon Palliative Care in Flemington, New Jersey.

Her interest in hospice and palliative care stems from her experience of caring for seriously ill older adults with multiple co-morbidities in the skilled nursing facility. She hopes to integrate palliative care principles into geriatrics to better provide patient-centered care that focuses on improving the quality of life for patients and their families.

“Hunterdon Palliative Care is specialized care that focuses on the whole person. It recognizes that people living with serious illnesses need expert symptom management, as well as spiritual and emotional support. Palliative care provides relief from the symptoms, pain, and stress of a serious illness, no matter what the diagnosis. It is appropriate at any age and at any stage of a serious illness and can be provided along with curative treatment. The goal is to improve the quality of life for both the patient and the family” as stated on their website.

Educated in the United States, Dr. Choi graduated with a Bachelor of Science in Nutritional Sciences from the University of Connecticut. She then went on to earn her Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine degree from the Kirksville College of Osteopathic Medicine at A.T. Still University.

Furthering her training, she performed her residency in family medicine and her fellowship in geriatrics at Rowan University School of Osteopathic Medicine/Jefferson Health. She also performed an additional fellowship, this time in hospice and palliative care, at Hunterdon Medical Center.

The doctor is board certified in family practice and osteopathic manipulative medicine & geriatric medicine by the American Osteopathic Board of Family Physicians (AOBFP). The AOBFP is an organization that provides board certification to qualified osteopathic physicians who specialize in delivering comprehensive primary care for patients of all ages, and genders, and addressing all parts of the body.

Among her professional affiliations, Dr. Choi is an active member of the American Osteopathic Association and the American Academy of Hospice and Palliative Medicine.

Hospice and palliative medicine is a formal subspecialty of medicine in the United States that focuses on symptom management, relief of suffering, and end-of-life care. Hospice and palliative medicine specialists are medical doctors who help prevent and relieve the suffering of patients who have a serious illness or who have only a short time left to live. They work with a team of other professionals to address the needs of both the patient and loved ones.

On a more personal note, Dr. Choi is fluent in both English and Korean.
