During the 90-minute discussion, Abhinandan (Advisor to EntranceZone) described his idea for an online education network for K–Ph.D. students that would leverage the internet to revolutionise the education of India.

Abhinandan's mind wandered back hundreds of miles to the boarding school days, he had attended in an education city Pilani as he listened with rising curiosity. He remembers his last days of school and searching for college days. the crucial time for Indian Children's careers, he studied at India's best school but was finding it hard to choose the career path due to a lack of career counseling. So he decided to launch an education portal that will help the colleges to find the path after the 12th.

For nearly a year Abhinandan mulled over this proposal, and started working on entrancezone.com, a simple website on WordPress, in his final year he launched the portal and challenged to start up India's most ambitious global education information platform to provide the gift of quality education to learners all over India.

The team is passionate about using technology to enhance the educational experience of students and teachers around the world.

Abhinandan has invested 12 years of experience in several colleges, universities, and EntranceZone. he has put together a formidable team of information technology, education, and marketing professionals to attain the company's ambitious mission. No other internet website offers a web 2.0 portal that provides a common forum for all stakeholders in education.

EntranceZone promises students an online platform where they can safely connect with colleges & universities.
