

A Woman's Journey to Be a Champion

Divine Female Champion launches website with an on-the-go app providing online support network for women with the ability to remain anonymous; including, online journal, self-care E-courses, online support groups, and so much more.

Tulsa, Oklahoma Jan 15, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - Every woman, every day struggles with situations that give them a rollercoaster of emotions. The ups and downs of daily living along with rushing from work to school, getting children, prepping meals, and doing chores take their toll on the mind and the body.

We know we need to relax, we know we need to talk, we know we need support groups, and help, but when do we have the time, where can we go that fits our schedule, who can we reach out to when our family and friends also have their own time?

We see ads on social media and the internet telling us to write in a journal, let it all out, get self-help books, or attend gatherings. The truth is, it is hard to fit that in or to find groups that do not promote a religion. We need to rest when we have time to rest.

We also need privacy so no one can steal and read our journals or tell the neighbors or co-workers what they heard us say in a meeting. The Divine Female Champion is set up on a simple and easy-to-use platform that allows users to change their profile name so they can remain anonymous.

A Woman's Journey is a path set to take women thru a journey of discovering themselves, learning to love themselves, having guidance as they move thru this journey, and above all supporting groups for issues we really need to focus on. We are women helping women.

No one has to be alone anymore. We include all women. We send out welcome gifts, birthday gifts, and holiday gifts. We are a united group ready to answer women when they have something to say. We provide a network of support that is available while sitting in the car line, at the doctor's office, on lunch break, or simply laying in bed at night.

Our goal is to raise enough capital to build a Women's Center, where women can come and truly relax with no obligations, no chores, and no tasks to complete and enjoy just being alive. The center will also provide transitional homes for women who need a place to start over. A place to go to get back on their feet. Every member will have the ability to throw a bag in a car and just come.

We are the Champions who seek to help other women be champions for themselves and others.
