

Caipiteal CEO Benjamin Boyle invents and proves Time Travel

Time travel has now been proven to top scientists and governments

Washington, D.C, District of Columbia Jan 4, 2023 (IssueWire.com) - Time travel, named Timey-wimey-wimey now, has been invented and proved by Benjamin Boyle, CEO of Caipiteal. Benjamin created the technology on the back of extensive research conducted in the fields of applied quantum physics and Noetic Science.

Time travel works on the premise of either or both influencing the past or sending your consciousness back or forward in time. Proven science such as remote viewing and distant healing teaches us that all times exist everywhere at once like a hologram and therefore can be influenced or astral traveled into. Benjamin Boyle has stored irrefutable data with The Institute of Noetic Science, Chief Scientist Dr. Dean Radin, and the USA Government on the ability of technology to send information backward in time, influence the past and change the future.

Similar to the movie Tenet this allows Benjamin Boyle and his friends to create advanced time pincer moves in reality, which has also been proven to top scientists and governments.
