Get to know Registered Nurse, Colleen Bradley, who serves patients in San Diego, California.

New York City, New York Jan 10, 2023 (IssueWire.com) - Colleen is a birth and postpartum doula and monitrice with over four decades of experience as a registered nurse. She works at Breastfeeding Fixers and Leilani's Wellness Center in San Diego, California.

Her love and heart have been with women and infants since she graduated from nursing school at Niagara County Community College in 1979. Her areas of specialization include catastrophic case management, chemotherapy, and wound care.

Throughout her line of work, Colleen has attended over 5000 births ranging from low-risk home births to high-risk hospital births. Her experience includes having worked many years within OBGYN departments, including maternal-infant care, postpartum, pediatric, and neonatal intensive care. Her nursing care has extended to clients at end of life through her work with hospice, and included acute care home health for all stages of life from pediatric to geriatric.

On a professional level, she is an active member of the California Nurses Association and the American Nurses Association.

A Registered Nurse (RN) is a nurse who has graduated from a nursing program and met the requirements outlined by a country, state, province, or similar licensing body to obtain a nursing license. RNs fulfill a variety of job duties. In addition to their primary role in treating and caring for patients, their responsibilities also include educating patients and the public about a variety of medical conditions, as well as providing emotional support, and coordinating care and advice to the families of their patients. Other RN job functions include leadership, research, performing diagnostic tests and analyzing results, operating medical equipment, administering medications, recording patients' symptoms and medical histories, and assisting with patient rehabilitation and follow-up.
