

Making students market ready: Tradified's CTA Program

Tradified's Certified Technical Analyst Program, an industry integrated certification for finance students is helping them build a solid foundation for their careers in the financial markets with practical learning from seasoned market professionals.

tradified

Mumbai, Maharashtra Jan 27, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - Tradified, one of India's most advanced and Leading stock eLearning platforms for new traders & investors entering the stock market, provides a program for young students in college to help them build a solid foundation for their career.

Tradified's Certified Technical Analyst Program™ consists 4 months of live classes and extensive real-time training on virtual market simulators. It will connect learners around the country with leading experts in Financial Markets.

This offering by Tradified helps students', sculpts them with real-world skills, and makes them job-ready right out of college. By breaking the barriers and bringing young learners together over a shared love of learning and securing a rewarding career in financial markets, Tradified provides opportunities to learn from influential professionals.

"At Tradified, we are on a mission to create learning experiences engaging, fun and practical that students stay inspired and motivated throughout and after," said Tradified's CEO, Abhishek Parakh. "Our Certified Technical Analyst program is specifically designed for the young college students to explore and understand the stock market while connecting with like-minded learners and professionals from all around the country. We are not only focused on bookish knowledge alone, but practical learning is what we live by. With over 20 years in stock market, as a professional also concerned with lack of practical training, it was important to me and my team that Tradified gives the best learning and enriching experience to the students."

It is a platform where the top 1% wealth creators and stock market professionals with years of experience have joined together as a team with the aim of making Profitable Traders & Investors in India. And make young India Independent by guiding them to create a promising career in Financial Markets with placement assistance and necessary skill development that big companies and firms demand in the 21st century.

Learners are taught and trained in a real-time stock market environment created with virtual stock simulators, with the motive of giving them an understanding of stock market dynamics. And saving them an overwhelming feeling when they enter the real market for the first time.

Media Contact

Tradified Learning Private Limited

admin@tradified.com

Source : Tradified Learning Private Limited

See on IssueWire