Philadelphia, Pennsylvania Jan 23, 2023 (IssueWire.com) - In honor of Black History Month, NetWurk.org is proud to announce the launch of its new social media platform, designed specifically for the African American community. The platform, which aims to be a competitor to LinkedIn, is a professional network that connects members with job opportunities, networking events, and other career-related resources.

"We created NetWurk.org to provide a space for African Americans to connect and support one another in their professional pursuits," said MIKY BLAK, the creator of NetWurk.org. "As a community, we have faced many challenges in the past, but we have always been resilient, and we know that by coming together, we can achieve great things."

In celebration of the February launch, NetWurk.org is also proud to announce the release of an exclusive NFT (non-fungible token) collection, featuring 1,000 pieces of unique illustrations of African professionals. The collection is meant to promote the image of African American excellence and success. The collection will be available on OpenSea.io starting February 1, 2023.

NetWurk.org will be open to new users starting this February, and members can sign up for free. The platform features a variety of tools to help members connect with other professionals, including a job board, a calendar of networking events, and a directory of businesses owned by African Americans.

"We want to empower our members to succeed in their careers and build a strong network of support," said MIKY BLAK. "We believe that by providing access to job opportunities, professional resources, and the promotion of the image of African American excellence and success, we can help our members reach their goals and make a real impact in the world."

NetWurk.org is an African-American-owned platform, and we are excited to be a part of the community. We encourage all members of the African American community to join us and help build a powerful network of professionals.
