There are several reasons why Singaporean parents choose swimming lessons as an enrichment class for their children:

Safety: Swimming is a crucial life skill, especially in a country like Singapore where there are numerous waterways and swimming pools. By enrolling their children in swimming lessons, parents can ensure that their children are safe around water and can protect themselves in case of any accidental falls or drowning incidents.

Health benefits: Swimming is a low-impact, full-body workout that is great for children's overall health and fitness. It helps improve their cardiovascular endurance, flexibility, and muscle strength, as well as helps them maintain a healthy weight.

Confidence and self-esteem: Swimming lessons can help children build self-confidence and self-esteem, as they learn new skills and achieve milestones in the pool. This can be especially beneficial for children who are shy or lack confidence in other areas of their lives.

Socialization: Swimming lessons are a great way for children to interact with others their age and make new friends. This can be especially important for children who are introverted or have difficulty making friends in other settings.

Fun and enjoyment: Swimming is a fun and enjoyable activity for children, and many parents choose swimming lessons as an enrichment class because it allows their children to have fun and enjoy themselves while learning new skills.

Overall, swimming lessons provide numerous benefits for children's physical, mental, and social development, making them a popular choice for parents in Singapore as an enrichment class.
