Get to know Certified Registered Nurse Anesthetist, Amanda J. Honig, who serves patients in San Diego, California.

New York City, New York Feb 8, 2023 (IssueWire.com) - Amanda is a certified registered nurse anesthetist working at Naval Medical Center in San Diego, California.

Located within the grounds of Balboa Park in San Diego, the U.S. Navy's largest West Coast hospital has played a role in the city's history for more than 100 years. Navy Medicine Readiness and Training Command San Diego focuses on three critical mission priorities: warfighter readiness, medical force generation, and supporting the delivery of high-quality health care at Naval Medical Center San Diego.

Academically, Amanda earned her Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree from Wayne State University in 2013. Years later, in 2021, she graduated with honors with her Doctor of Nursing Practice degree from the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences.

Attributing her success to the mentorship and professionalism of the Navy, she is an active member of the American Association of Nurse Anesthesiology and a published author in the peer-reviewed journal Perianesthesia Nursing.

A Certified Registered Nurse Anesthetist (CRNA) plays a crucial role in the success of a variety of medical procedures. They work in collaboration with surgeons, anesthesiologists, dentists, podiatrists, and other professionals to ensure the safe administration of anesthesia.
