The petition aims to bring public attention to global corruption and purported crimes committed by oligarchs in the UK and EU

Riga, Latvia Feb 7, 2023 (IssueWire.com) - Igor Sychev – the Riga-based businessman and anti-corruption activist renowned for his advocacy in support of financial transparency – is proud to announce that his petition, designed to focus public attention on purported corruption committed by oligarchs in the United Kingdom and European Union, overcame today 37,000 signatures and became one of the top-signed petitions on Change.org.

Launched only a few weeks ago, the petition has quickly become one of Change.org's most popular. It has even gained "top signed" status, showcasing a high degree of public interest in and support for Sychev's anti-corruption campaign.

"I've been advocating for transparency over many years now, and I'm glad to see that the global public is finally seeing corruption for what it is: stealing from the public coffers," said Igor Sychev. "Through this petition, I want to further shed light on what dozens of oligarchs have been doing in the United Kingdom and throughout the European Union, to the detriment of hundreds of millions of citizens."

Sychev added, "Their actions have been downright shocking, and it is my hope that governments around the world will work together to take action to stamp out corruption once and for all. Given all that is happening, we need to be united in the face of the many threats emanating from oligarchs around the world."

Next, Sychev's petition aims to surpass 50,000 signees. To learn more about his work or to sign the petition, visit www.change.org.
