Shelton, Connecticut Feb 3, 2023 (IssueWire.com) - OwnYourKeys is an online platform that provides users with a secure, convenient, and cost-effective way to store and manage their crypto-assets. It enables users to generate custom crypto wallets, create backups and store them in a secure, cold storage environment. In addition, the platform provides a range of features to help users monitor their crypto-held assets, securely transact and manage their private keys.

We empower people to own their keys and take control of their financial security. With Ownyourkeys LLC, users can create a secure and reliable identity, create and recover wallets from any device, and manage and store their data safely and securely.

Owning your own crypto keys on DeFi offers increased liquidity, improved access to financial services, higher yields, better liquidity, and improved security with no need for intermediaries or trusting central authorities. To do this, users should create a secure and offline wallet for the associated private keys and back them up in a safe place. Additionally, security best practices such as two-factor authentication and strong passwords should be used to protect crypto from fraud and theft, alongside keeping up-to-date with the latest blockchain and cryptocurrency trends.
