

Donnalnk Publications actor / author Catherine Sewell's title, "Trade Secrets" currently booking interviews

Donnalnk Publications is releasing actor / author Catherine Sewell's "Trade Secrets Media Kit" to reviewers. Catherine, who has hosted live and recorded interviews is welcoming interviews from industry through the publishing house . . .

Annapolis, Maryland Feb 13, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - DonnaInk Publications through Owlhouse and Beat Deep Books Imprints, is releasing "Trade Secrets: Real-time Roadmap to Acting Media Kit" for actor/author Catherine Sewell, who extends over sixty film and television credits. Catherine's experience in film, television, commercials, and additional industry initiatives is credited largely due to her inherent capabilities and tenacity to arrive and perform even the settings that may have been uncomfortable at times. Her title is an excellent resource to aid budding actors who can be better served through practical real-time methodologies derived through real-time televised and made-for-movie features as well as theater, commercials, etc.

"Trade Secrets" moved from fall 2022 to a 2023 release and the publishing house is ready to sponsor Ms. Sewell for radio and televised interviews. Her title is available in pre-release at this time; however, will not be shipped until post-production.

About the Author: Ms. Catherine Sewell enjoys a fulfilling career that spans film, television, commercials, and voice-overs having worked in films, numerous television projects, commercials, and industries. With her co-producer, Catherine received North Carolina's Society of Historians' Paul Green Multi-Media Award for the documentary, "The House in the Horseshoe." She began acting in the 1990s and gained her Screen Actors Guild (SAG) eligibility as Mrs. Newman ("nosey neighbor") in Travelocity's national campaign. A mother and grandmother; Catherine is also a teacher, psychologist, and college professor. She states, "Each role I've accepted in life aids in the delivery of strong 'real people' performances." In her free moments, she enjoys non-fiction, writing, and gardening.

About the Book: This book focuses on work in various genres such as film, television, commercials, industrial training videos, theater, music videos, and a book trailer. It is a teaching manual by actress Catherine Sewell who shares her eclectic career spanning various entertainment mediums in film, television, commercials, and voice-over work.

About the Publisher: DonnaInk Publications, L.L.C. is a small, woman-owned, traditional, and "Indie" publishing house with thirty-plus authors who arrive from nine countries and five continents and share their diverse works discriminating readers love (derived largely from organic and direct sales growth). Owlhouse and Beat Deep Books Imprints feature arts, entertainment, and trending titles.

Media Contact

Donnalnk Publications, L.L.C.

donnainkpublications@pro.space

19105284347

17611 Aquasco Road

Source : Donnalnk Publications, L.L.C.

See on IssueWire