

Edge opportunity workshops at MWC 2023 led by London telecom consultancy STL Partners

STL Partners will present two executive workshops at the Mobile World Congress in Barcelona focused on the edge computing opportunity. Held in partnership with enterprise open-source leader, Red Hat, and global digital transformation leader, Atos.

London, United Kingdom Feb 7, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - The world's largest and most influential connectivity event, MWC Barcelona is set to take place from 27 February – 2 March 2023. Following its theme “Velocity: Unleashing tomorrow’s technology – today”, tech experts at STL Partners will lead two workshops at the Leonardo Royal Hotel, Barcelona Fira on Tuesday 28 February, and Wednesday 1 March, during the event.

Exclusively for telecom operators, Tuesday’s CSP Executive Workshop on Edge Video Analytics is for CSPs who are interested in learning more about the edge opportunity with a particular focus on video analytics. Following that, Wednesday’s Industry 4.0 workshop will welcome players across the ecosystem and answer key industry questions around edge computing, private networks, AI, and automation.

As part of the speaker panel, Dalia Adib, Consulting Director, STL Partners says, “Mobile operators have invested huge amounts of CAPEX in the last 3-4 years to roll out 5G. It’s now imperative that they leverage the platform they’ve built to enable new services in connectivity, and edge computing and ensure 5G unlocks new applications, particularly for enterprises. However, what’s less clear is how to monetise these – what the business models are and how to take these to market effectively.”

Both workshops will focus on sharing insights from STL’s 5G and edge research, while establishing an interactive forum, and will be preceded by complimentary breakfast.
