Our team is highly certified and well-trained to provide this service safely and effectively so our patients can get the best results they need quickly!

Dental Specialty Care in Lancaster is excited to introduce its latest addition to its services lineup – Frenectomies! With this new procedure available, we can now help adults and children with restrictive frenula, which may be causing issues with speech or eating due to limited mobility of the tongue or tightening of tissue attachments within the mouth. Having these problems addressed will allow our patients more freedom with daily activities while eliminating the pain that might have been experienced prior.

The primary benefit behind a Frenectomy is improved mobility as it removes any troublesome restraints that could inhibit basic functions within the mouth, such as speaking clearly & eating evenly without discomfort from restricted movement throughout each side of the mouth, including lips & cheeks as well as underneath them where the tissue attaches tightly around teeth & gums, resulting in an inability for proper articulation during communication efforts along with difficulties chewing food correctly when needed - leading towards potential jaw tension/TMJ disorder associated ailments too if left untreated long term. As such, having it done early on can save individuals much inconvenience later down life's road, plus reduce financial costs associated with related treatment options should problems go unresolved throughout time!

At Dental Specialty Care in Lancaster, our team has expertise in performing these services efficiently, so clients receive desired outcomes quickly without complication; via careful preparation, procedures are followed directly before beginning the actual operation itself, thereby ensuring maximum safety standards remain intact while providing quality care simultaneously according to needs at hand - something we pride ourselves upon immensely here afterward servicing local community members since inception back 1990's periodical till today presently still going strong overall contentedly!

We understand how difficult it can be living with some kind of physical limitation in the mouth, so we are committed to providing our clients with the best possible care and results. If you or someone you know might need a Frenectomy, don't hesitate to contact us for more information today!
