Practolytics, the one stop solution for all your Revenue Cycle Management needs has extended their operations by a second office in Atlanta, Georgia.

Duluth, Georgia Feb 2, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - Practolytics, the one-stop solution for all your Revenue Cycle Management needs has extended its operations by a second office in Atlanta, Georgia. Being an expert in the Medical billing industry with 20+ years of experience in services like Medical billing, Credentialing, Coding, Pre Authorizations, Contract Negotiations, etc. this is definitely the right move for the business and they can service the local clients more efficiently, and effectively. Medical practices in Atlanta looking for an expert 'local biller' now have the right choice available for them.

Practolytics offers end-to-end Revenue Cycle Management Solutions to grow healthcare businesses and their expert guidance helps to navigate through complex processes and improve workflow efficiency. The suite of services is built with the aim of bringing more control over key performance indicators so that the clients do not have to compromise on the time dedicated to patient care. Increasing the business revenue, decreasing the cost, and simplifying processes have always been their forte.

“Outsourcing can significantly increase both the internal as well as external productivity of your clinic. A billing company, for instance, can provide your clinic with 24/7 monitoring through analytics or operate in-house as an EHR– Electronic Health Records Specialist. In this way, the outsourcing company can help guarantee that adherence to incentive programs does not divert your team’s attention from patients.” said Manik Chawla, Chief Executive Officer of Practolytics.

Practolytics with its diverse background in every aspect of healthcare is committed to maximizing revenue and consistently delivering optimum results for medical practices. With growth strategies and commissioned plans, Practolytics is all geared up to expand its operations and also to provide unmatched Medical billing solutions in the US Healthcare industry.
