

Shivam_behror an Leading Entrepreneur shares how he became Successful in his business at a young age

Bahrar, Rajasthan Feb 13, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - A middle-class boy Shivam_behror(shivam) who took engineering as his career, and had no choice because his parents wanted to see him as an engineer built and established his successful startup on the social media market on 7th July 2020 which helped 3000+ people across the world and worked with many public figure, Celebrities, musicians, fashion models, and entrepreneurs (as per source).

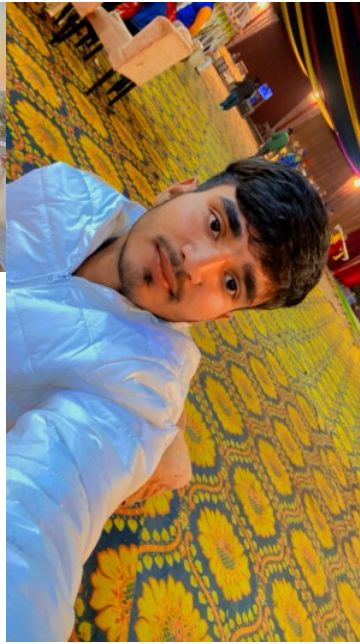

The Internet is one of the most powerful yet important parts of everyone's life today. No one can imagine life without it and many have built their lives with its help of it. Shivam_behror is an Indian entrepreneur, student, and influential marketer in the economic field who is inspiring today's youth with his work. With the dream of making an identity on his own, he is successful in creating a niche for himself in the field of management. While many students are spending their lives with a happy-go-lucky attitude, this boy is a multi-worker who strikes a perfect balance between his studies and his work.

At an age of 15. He belongs to the small town of Behror in Rajasthan , while studying Engineering he established his start-up which is successful and generated $15000 in Lockdown. His journey was tough when he had to decide between his career, and the passion which he built. He spreads overseas, and he has one of the best digital marketing agencies and operations in the UK, US, Europe, Canada, and India. His social media strategies go beyond just posting. He runs social media ads and campaigns globally, and has the potential to generate conversions through Instagram. who loves his write-ups also known as an "Instagram Writer and An Influencer"

He has his own story which will inspire you and many upcoming youths. Recently when a person asked him, How did you become successful? And how did you manage at a very small age of 15 (turned 19 on 7th July as per resource)? He replied, Never show your success to anybody, let your work tell people how successful you are. The first principle to become a successful person is to smile 24 hours a, smile in such a way that when somebody wakes you up at midnight you should smile and that will keep you motivated. The second principle is you should have patience, a person Cannot succeed in his life if he doesn't have patience. STUDY IN ST. Xavier's school Behror.

When I took a step in my career in social media marketing, I had no support, there was no one to guide me, no one to help me but I had to take the decision and finally, my heart said "Go with the flow and glow" that's how my journey started as an entrepreneur. A path that completely changed my life, I ignored negative people, ignored people who said what you're doing is a waste, and people who made fun of me I ignored them because I had my visions clear. I started learning by myself what actually a business is and how a human mind copes while working in sales and marketing. Shivam adds "Thinking is working" if you do nothing but if you keep thinking then you're working. He is now working on his 2nd startup for students across the globe when a student is forced to study or has no interest to study he's introducing an "E-Learning platform" where students can learn about everything as free open source and can make their own business. Shivam today speaks for itself as he has collaborated his work with others.
