Benton Harbor, Michigan Feb 15, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - Tarps Now® is pleased to announce the release of a new Buyers Guide for Baseball and Softball Field Tarps supporting industries focused on fields still recovering from a long off-season of winter weather damage, getting them back into game shape is no easy feat.

Fortunately for all the teams, grounds crews, maintenance personnel, and individuals that are getting the fields ready there is one piece of equipment that works wonders in giving your field an extra boost - Baseball and Softball Field Tarps. In helping further take care of these well-manicured diamonds, protecting against further wear.

Field Tarps are a crucial component for ball teams when it comes to helping keep the playing surfaces in tip-top shape. They help protect the grass from excessive dirt, debris, and critters, allowing maintenance work on parts of infields without compromising the condition of other areas such as basepaths during practice or anytime non-players are off limits. With these durable field covers made from durable fabrics such as vinyl and poly materials, you can always have complete confidence that rain will not ruin the game day.

They deliver superior protection by being 100 percent waterproof along with also being tear, abrasion, rot, and mildew resistant. Although they are heavy-duty in construction, Baseball and Softball Tarps are extremely lightweight and easy to handle with ease allowing them to be put on and off the field quickly because time is valuable when dealing with volatile weather, especially in the spring. These cleanup hitters will always be there for you no matter what, so do not get caught off guard without the right protection for your field.
