Christine Phipps Davis, MBA, CEO of Anointed Assistant, released her new book

Jackson, Mississippi Feb 24, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - I AM by Christine Phipps Davis

Christine Phipps Davis, MBA, CEO of Anointed Assistant, released her new book I AM, A Journal of Who I Am in Christ.

The World will tell you that you are a bad person. You are ugly, no good, and will never amount to anything. That you are just like.....

They will ask questions like why did I have you, why am I with you, why do you think someone will want you? Stop accepting others' labels of Who you are and start accepting who God says you are.

Christine Phipps Davis, entrepreneur, content creator, influencer, and self-published author, created a journal to help its readers realize who they are in Christ, and to help them stop accepting the labels that others are placing on them. This book was written for anyone that wants to move past the labels of the past and into a future where they realize who they really are in Christ.

I Am is available online at www.BarnesandNobles.com and www.Amazon.com.

This devotional journal is a self-help book created to help its readers realize who they truly are, and to see past who others have told them they are. This journal will help its owner to see that they aren't hurt that others are putting on them and that they are strong enough to move beyond words. Once realizing who God says one is, then the journal will help them to see who God wants them to be.
