

Advance Laminates Uncovers An Exclusive Range of Innovative Laminates for Eye-Pleasing Interiors

Noida, Uttar Pradesh Mar 13, 2023 (IssueWire.com) - Advance Laminates, one of the leading manufacturers of innovative laminates has launched its new collection. They have expanded their foot by providing various kinds of shades, textures, and designs. The broadened view of decorating India is slowly turning into reality with contact integration of technology and innovation.

They work on the ideology “creativity has no limit, with the will to innovate, anyone can create magic with the right mindset and approach”. With the constantly evolving world, they have put their feet in technology blended with creativity and innovation. With 1573+ designs and textures, Advance Laminates have excelled with the right manufacturing process and strong distribution network.

Recent Launch

They recently launched their latest collections of laminates including Door Skin Collection, The Omega Series and Nexa Collection. The new collection has a diverse range, shades and designs that will renovate your home with a completely different look. These folders have a rich collection of new designs as per particular space. The solid colour series, stone series, wooden series are the subcategories of these laminates. They have also stepped into door collection which is further categorized into Digital Door Skin, Texture and Premium.

New Collections

The newly launched Omega Series has 0.8 MM thickness that perfectly fits in your space along with giving a high end finish. It includes must see designs and textures that give your furniture an elite look and finish. The catalogue has varied textures and designs to fit every other space of your home.

Another collection is a door skin collection that has digital door skin, texture door skin, wink sparkles and premium door skin. It not only has that sparkle finish but also some premium designs and textures. This newly added collection has various styles, textures to suit every vibe. Advance Laminates have stepped into the door skin with just one mission of decorating India.

The third collection is Nexa Collection that is 100% Phenolic bonded liner laminates. It has stone series 800, solid series 700, fabric series 700, and wooden series 800. The catalogue has different premium shades including sparkle, metallic, wooden and what not.

All three of them have premium quality laminates with varied shades, finishes and textures. To get the premium texture and feel for your door, you should consult Advance Laminates for their innovative designs. The designs here are manufactured by integrating innovation and technology. The manufacturing process of laminates is complex, especially a high pressure laminate but they do it with greater effort and with latest technology to bring the best possible results.

Other Catalogues

They have many different catalogues including The Colours of India, The 1 MM Decorative Laminate, 6 MM Exterior Laminate, Acrylic laminate, 1.25 MM Color Core PVR and The USA Collection. They have newly added the USA Collection which has premium colours and has become a widely chosen laminate.

This collection along with Acrylic Laminate is high in demand.

PVC and Wall Cladding

Apart from them the PVC laminates are also high in demand for their unique usability in the kitchen. They are mostly used in kitchens as they are highly stain resistant, fire resistant, water resistant and more. Apart from PVC Laminates their HPL wall cladding is also highly used and appreciated. Some believe that it is similar to others but its thickness, colours, textures make all the difference.

The HPL Cladding Sheet is another renowned name in their collection. The look it gives to your exteriors is something which can't be achieved with paint or any other surface material. For exteriors they have a completely different collection that has high quality shades and textures.

Affordability Feature

The major concern in using laminate is the pricing which many think is high and what they don't understand is the long term benefit of using it which is far less than the other surface materials. Laminates usually last more than 20 years which is a high yielding investment and best option for your interiors and exteriors. Another point which is often overlooked is the characteristics like easy maintenance, durability, designs and what not.

Affordability with laminates can be achieved with Advance Laminates as their shades and designs can overlook everything. To have the luxury and premium finish to your home, laminates are a perfect choice.
