

Entrepreneur Shereena Delgado Helps Young Girls Develop Confidence Through Modeling Academy

White Plains, New York Mar 19, 2023 (IssueWire.com) - Serial Entrepreneur and Social Media Influencer Shereena Delgado announced today that she is seeking to help young girls develop confidence through modeling and mentorship via her Modeling Academy "Straight Walk Runway". Aware of the challenges that many young girls face when it comes to confidence and self-esteem, Delgado is committed to using her expertise in the modeling industry and her Christian faith to empower young girls to become confident, successful women.

According to Delgado, modeling can be a powerful tool to help young girls build self-confidence and develop a positive self-image. Many girls struggle with body image and self-esteem issues, and modeling can provide an avenue for them to learn how to celebrate and love their unique features.

As a successful model and entrepreneur herself, Delgado understands the importance of having strong female role models. She believes that mentorship is an essential component of empowering young girls to succeed in life. Through her mentorship via her Modeling Academy: Straight Walk Runway, Delgado is committed to providing young girls with the guidance and support they need to achieve their goals.

Shereena Delgado is a devout Christian and believes that her faith plays a role in her work as a mentor and entrepreneur. She sees every young girl as a child of God and believes that it is her duty to help them realize their full potential.

"I am excited to launch this new initiative and help young girls develop confidence through modeling and mentorship," said Delgado. "As a Christian, I believe that it is important to use my gifts and talents to serve and help others. I hope that my work will inspire young girls to become confident, successful women who know that they are loved and valued."
