

New Feature Film ‘Making Him Famous’ -God Had Other Plans For Him to release March 17th

Burlington, North Carolina Mar 8, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - “Making Him Famous.” - God Had Other Plans For Him, a new feature film by North Carolina-based Cornelius Muller Productions, will release in select theaters in Greensboro/High Point/Winston Salem, Raleigh/Durham, and Charlotte DMA March 17th.

“Making Him Famous” tells the story of Mario King, a young man who exemplifies his faith as he embarks on a journey of self-discovery and fame. King’s goal in life is to unveil the power of God, the only true hero who can transform lives and change the world in a culture where people are mesmerized by celebrities, brands, superheroes, and villains.

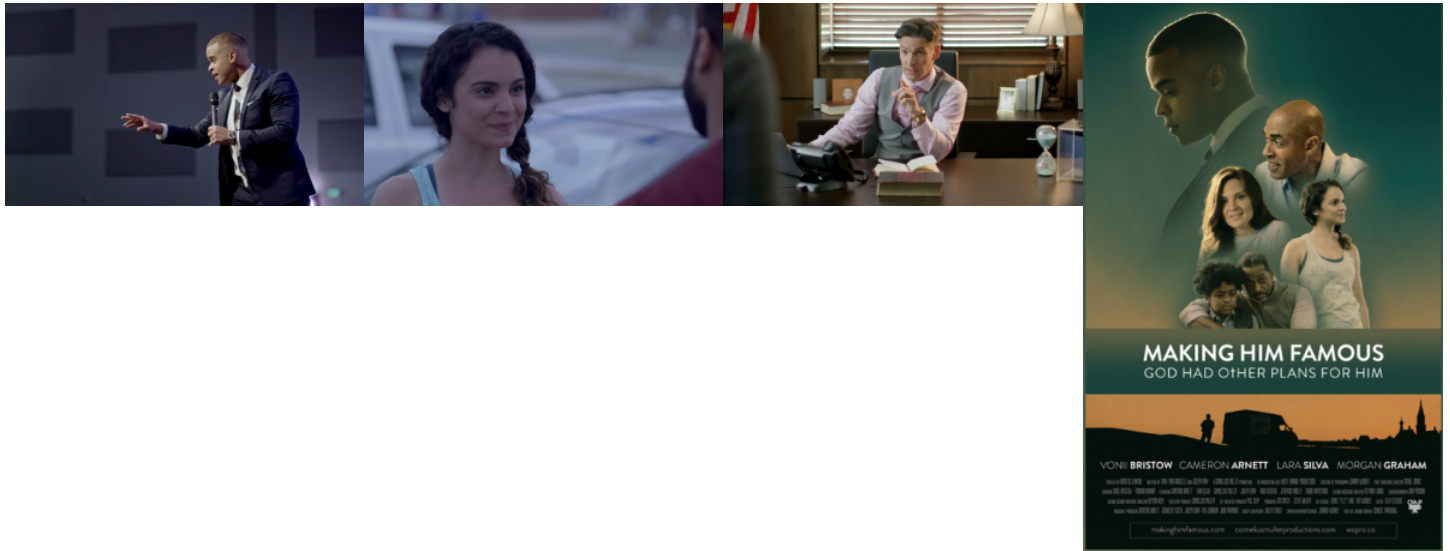

As King’s pride continues to escalate, it begins to take a heavy toll. At the cusp of fame, his life begins to crash down around him. After an awakening shows him the error of his ways, he then decides to live a life of service and help others in need. He relocates to a small town where his work at a local homeless shelter offers him an opportunity for redemption. After the dust has settled, His name will still be known, but just who will “He” be when God has other plans?

The film stars Vonii Bristow, Morgan Graham, Cornelius Muller, Joseph Gray, and Ashlee Payne. Directed by Burgess Jenkins, who is best known for his roles in films including “Remember the Titans,” “Army Wives,” and “The Reaping.” Executive Producer Cornelius Muller is joined by producers Joseph Gray and Jen Foster.
