Ray’s social media platforms and admirers of his music are in high gear for this appearance, and some will be traveling from out of state to attend.

Born into a musical family, with his father being a recognized musician in his home state, lead to the self-taught artistry and production skills that raised the bar in Ray’s musical journey to date. It has been claimed repeatedly that this exceptional Independent Artist is moving mountains with his creativity and style. Ray’s humble and sincere approach is not only appealing, but it is adding to the ambience of his presentation. This artist lives and breathes his art, and with his Country-Rock genre of original songs and well-known covers of his favorites, this is truly one rising star in the making.

Other than being on stage, in 2017, Ray debuted the album “Circles” and now, he has excelled with over a 60+ catalog of published material. The anticipated soundtrack “Built To Last” just released, is creating interest from video production companies nationally who want to tape live footage and provide endorsements. Songs like “Quest For Peace,” “Divide and Conquer,” “I Get Around,” “Won’t Go There” and many more, landed Ray the title of “Best Alternative Artist 2022” presented by Showforme Music Awards. His song “Soundcloud Warrior” is released on Wern Records out of Sweden, and his other crafts as Producer, Songwriter, and Featured Vocalist have garnered him collaborations and accreditation all over the world.
