

Stasit work life balance smartphone App to Launch on the First Quarter of 2024

Thrive in an unbalanced digital world

Orlando, Florida Mar 12, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - INTRODUCTION

Stasit was patented by Peter Lynch US8855723, an innovative entrepreneur who strongly believed that phones shouldn't control us. After patenting the technology, he presented his idea to his team who saw the social and mental health potential of making Stasit more than just a phone feature. They envisioned a movement to help people thrive in an unbalanced digital world and meet the growing need for work-life balance that millennials seek.

Why is the time NOW for Stasit?

In a world with 24/7 communication at our fingertips it is becoming more and more difficult to disconnect. We designed a simple solution that allows people to do just that. Whether the goal is to improve the balance between work and home or develop better study habits; Stasit puts people in control of those never-ending notifications to decide when, where, and how you hear or "don't hear" from colleagues, clients, and friends and family.
