Delhi, India Mar 9, 2023 (IssueWire.com) - The 2nd multidisciplinary virtual (online) conference is being organised by MindGlass WellBeing Pvt. Ltd., Delhi, India. The first conference, which was organised on the last weekend of February 2022 in association with the Psychology Department of Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar, India, drew 50 plus researchers and faculty members from India, Morocco, the United States of America, Australia, Pakistan, and other countries. The goal of the present conference is to bring well-known experts in health, sciences, social sciences, and wellness together to talk about the latest developments in sustainable development and how they can be used to improve health. Participants will also have the opportunity to learn how to apply these principles in their own lives. There will be a series of talks, panel discussions, and scientific sessions at the conference. These will cover a wide range of topics related to technology and recent research work in sustainable development, health, and wellness. Speakers and experts include leading experts from the fields of public health, physiotherapy, psychology, pharmaceuticals, physics, pure science, information technology, the environment, business, and more. Team MindGlass hopes that the knowledge gained from this event will be put to good use in helping to create a healthier and more sustainable future. The last date to register and send an abstract, paper, or poster is March 28, 2023. For more information about the conference, please visit the website at <https://mindglass.in/conference> or
