The AAFP is one of the largest national medical organizations, committed to family doctors and with over 127,600 AAFP physicians and student members dedicated to the personal patient-physician relationship focusing on integrated care.

Family medicine is a medical specialty devoted to comprehensive health care for people of all ages. The specialist is called a family physician or family doctor. A family physician is often the first person a patient sees when seeking healthcare services. They examine and treat patients with a wide range of conditions and refer those with serious ailments to a specialist or appropriate facility.
