

YOURMD.ONLINE Launches Telehealth EHR Platform in Partnership with United Medical Group

Affordable and Accessible Telehealth Services for Patients Nationwide, with 24/7 Customer Support and Innovative Health AI in Development

Las Vegas, Nevada Mar 20, 2023 (IssueWire.com) - YOURMD.ONLINE, a healthcare technology company, has announced the release of its telehealth electronic health record platform, available since March of this year on www.yourmd.online. The company has partnered with United Medical Group, a group of board-certified physicians, to execute its telehealth services.

In addition to providing accessible care via telehealth, YOURMD.ONLINE offers 24/7 customer service with AI chat and a phone bot, providing patients with support whenever they need it. The company also offers an industry-leading customer service portal with free healthcare resources to its customers.

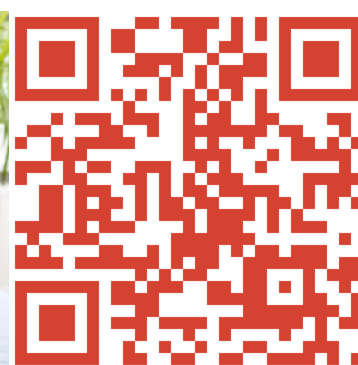

"We believe that providing excellent customer service is crucial to ensuring that our patients receive the best possible care," said Dr. Surapaneni. "Our commitment to technology allows us to offer cutting-edge telehealth software that meets the needs of our patients, while our commitment to customer service ensures that our patients receive the support they need to make the most of our telehealth platform."

YOURMD.ONLINE is also partnered with technology leaders to provide cutting-edge telehealth software that meets the needs of its patients.

"Our partnership with technology leaders allows us to offer the best possible telehealth software to our patients," added Dr. Surapaneni. "We believe that by investing in the latest technology and partnering with the best in the industry, we can provide our patients with the best possible care and improve the overall healthcare experience." We are developing our platform, www.oncallai.com, to use artificial intelligence to improve patient outcomes and enhance the patient experience in the future."

YOURMD.ONLINE's telehealth platform has been available on its website, www.yourmd.online, since March of this year, and the company looks forward to expanding its services to more patients in the future.
