Custom clothes, bags, and hats can be a great way to stand out at fundraising events, social gatherings, business promotions, and other special events. Add your logo to custom apparel and accessories like hoodies, caps, jackets, t-shirts, and totes to create a cohesive and professional look. These can be used as a powerful marketing tool as wearable items can promote your brand, anytime and anywhere. With a business logo imprinted on apparel, caps, and bags, you stand a good chance of reaching a broad audience and building a brand presence. Whether you're at a trade show, product launch, or leisure activity, these promotional wearables can add value to your marketing campaign and revenue.

Authentic Manufacturing CO. have invested years in building trust and forging lasting relationships through investments in every factory they work with. These factories work with brands like Nike, Louis Vuitton, Samsung, Johnson & Johnson, and 3M. With over 20 years of manufacturing experience, they are able to manufacture custom apparel and accessories from almost any kind of fabric. They are a renowned bucket hat manufacturer that designs and produce a large variety from scratch with no such size limitations. The sample production likely takes about 1-2 weeks and average bulk order fulfillment takes 2-4 weeks.

Choose from a wide spectrum of bucket hat styles and if you don't find anything that fits your unique requirements, send them an image of the product you want, along with logos, sizes, quantity, and preferred fabric. Next, they will send you an invoice for the sample once they gather relevant and complete information. After you approve the sample, they will send an invoice for 50% cost of bulk production, and minimum order is 50 pieces. Once the production is done, they will send you an invoice for the final payment and ship items directly with utmost safety and care.
