

Eric Swanson and Bryan Smith to play first Colorado Show April 20th in Denver presented by Yolo Rum.

Accomplished musician Eric Swanson is teaming up for a rare acoustic guitar duo performance with Bryan Smith at the newly renovated Tom's Starlight. Limited tickets available.

Denver, Colorado Apr 19, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - Eric Swanson and Bryan Smith from the Eric Swanson Band are both accomplished career musicians that have worked with numerous notable bands. Swanson has been recently featured on Sugarshack Sessions and continues to work with Slightly Stoopid and Soja as he branches out on his own projects. Swanson's distinctive perspective on life has inspired his songwriting and holistic ability to connect through music. Swanson once said, "I was born a musician." indeed the influence of his naturally gifted mother has been passed onto him to share with music fanatics. Eric Swanson's influence is based on reggae, a beachy vibe but he often dabbles in almost all genres.

Eric Swanson and Bryan Smith will be featured at the posh newly constructed patio at Tom's Starlight on 601 E. Colfax Avenue. The show will begin at 7 pm (MDT) on Thursday, April 20th. and will be emceed by St. Lucia's D.J. Larry, Denver's premier reggae music D.J. and presented by Yolo Rum. The show will also feature an animated art exhibition by Jim Popp and signature Yolo Rum cocktails on special.

This is a free event, but RSVP is required and there are a very limited amount of tickets available. RSVP on Eventbrite "Yolo Rum Presents Eric Swanson at Tom's Starlight".
