Texas singer, Savion Wright, Stage name: NOIVAS, who has traveled and performed all over the continental U.S. over the last 12 years, after a 6-year hiatus, has made a comeback into the musical spotlight.

“I’m doing this to inspire everyone to never give up on their dreams and to represent the people where my Southern roots come from. Please join me, we’re going to win together!”

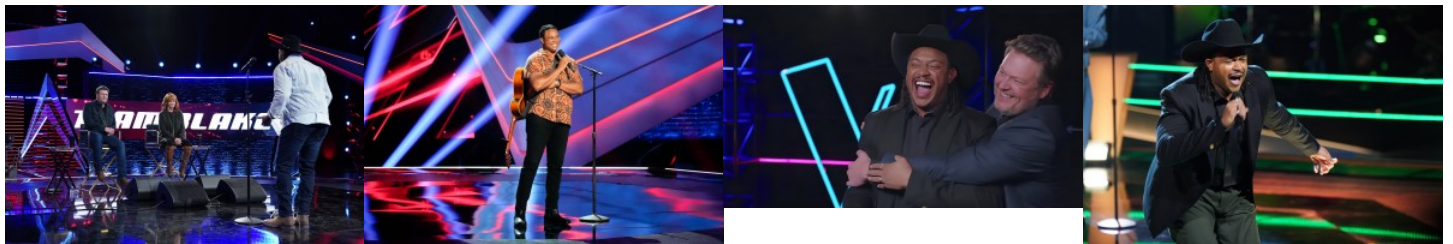

~ NOIVAS

NOIVAS began his blind Voice audition singing a capella for coaches Kelly Clarkson, Chance the Rapper, Blake Shelton and Niall Horan. NOIVAS delivered vocals that left the coaches stunned and resulted in all four of them turning their chairs within the first few seconds of NOIVAS’ performance. Chance the Rapper quickly blocked Blake Shelton before he could turn, making him very frustrated in the process. NOIVAS also performed one of his original songs, “Breathing Underwater” when Blake

Shelton asked him to perform it, after realizing they both have something in common, they've both lost siblings. Ultimately, he chose Chance the Rapper as his coach. After his battle round against Ray Uriel he was stolen onto the team he wanted to be on from the start, Blake Shelton's! NOIVAS is a cowboy who lives in the growing farming community of Hutto, Texas and was raised on a ranch in Jasper, Texas. In the knockout rounds, Blake put NOIVAS up against his soulful songstress Tasha Jessen, so NOIVAS decided to "go all out" and put on a 'performance of a lifetime' with his wickedly spectacular performance of Screamin' Jay Hawkins' "I Put A Spell On You". With Reba McEntire's wise mentorship to all of the contestants as this year's mega mentor, they were ready to perform. After incredible performances from both artists, Blake Shelton had no choice but to move NOIVAS through to the playoff rounds.

NOIVAS has also appeared on seasons 13 and 14 of FOX's American Idol, where he made it to the top 12 on the latter season.

Tune in on Mondays at 8/7 PM eastern/central to see NOIVAS as he moves on to the knockout rounds. Media inquiries should be sent to press@noivas.live
