

Help Chimpzee Plant Over 1000 Trees During Earth Month and Earn Income

In the presale if Chimpzee's initial raise goal is achieved, they will plant over 1000 trees during Earth Month, and participants will receive extra CHMPZ coins. Find out all about Chimpzee and the presale here.

London, United Kingdom Apr 17, 2023 (Issuewire.com) - There has been a clear trend in the cryptocurrency market over the past year, with many new ventures concentrating on social or environmental issues. While teams are beginning to understand the power of decentralised technology to unite people for good causes, the cryptocurrency sector is already democratic by nature. As a result, numerous projects are modifying their approaches to tackle admirable objectives.

A great example of such a project is Chimpzee, which will create a fun and lucrative eco-system while simultaneously encouraging users to help with animal and environmental concerns. The presale for the project is presently underway, along with a push to plant trees.

What is the Chimpzee Eco-System?

Chimpzee is the first web3 project that provide three different ways to make money, including shop-to-earn, trade-to-earn, and play-to-earn. Users can take use of these tools to receive benefits while supporting the project's goals.

Crypto fans will appreciate the variety of features the Chimpzee ecosystem has to offer. Particularly noteworthy on the platform are the Chimpzee store, NFT marketplace, and Zero Tolerance Game. Although there are other aspects, these are the ones that need the greatest consideration.

The Chimpzee shop is not your typical online store where you may just buy things. Instead, it acts as a major commercial hub with a broad selection of goods, supplies and provides an opportunity to earn CHMPZ coins. On the other side, the NFT marketplace enables users to purchase and sell NFTs and will be the first one in the world where users can earn passive income from receiving a portion of the platform's trading fees.

Players can also earn CHMPZ tokens through the special Zero Tolerance Game by hitting certain benchmarks. The game's name is derived from the idea that there should be "zero tolerance for abuses against nature and our environment."

The Chimpzee NFT passport is essential to maximising passive income within the ecosystem as it offers special privileges and advantages to NFT passport holders, generating more CHMPZ tokens and higher earning potential.

Stage 1 of the Chimpzee Presale has Started

The Chimpzee (CHMPZ) token, which users will be rewarded with and which can be used for a variety of transactions, is the foundation of all the ecosystem's features.

Chimpzee's initial presale stage is now in progress, with the price set at $0.0005. Stage 2 will see a price increase to $0.0007 with a listing price set at 0.00185 when the presale ends. Users will also have the option of purchasing the Chimpzee Diamond NFT passport, which delivers the greatest benefits and highest earning potential when they are made available at the end of the presale.

The Diamond NFT passport is only available to people that bought in Stage 1 during the exclusive whitelist event, thus those who lose their chance to get CHMPZ in Stage 1 will have to wait and purchase them at a higher cost. Additionally, non-prelaunch investors will have to wait till after the presale participants-only whitelist NFT passport prelaunch. A complete burn of up to 10% of the total circulating supply is possible when CHMPZ coins used to mint the initial Chimpzee NFT passports are burned.

After the presale, the Chimpzee team will concentrate on stage 2 of the roadmap, which includes becoming listed on several exchanges, as well as technological developments including the creation of the Chimpzee shop, NFT minting platform, and staking engine. Stage 2 of the plan will include the first CEX listing. Top CEXs have already expressed interest in Chimpzee.

Help Chimpzee Plant Over 1000 Trees

The group is now undertaking a tree-planting drive through April 20 as an illustration of the type of activity that Chimpzee is involved in. In the event that the first raise benchmark is met by April 20th, Chimpzee will plant over 1000 trees. Chimpzee would want to honour Earth Day on April 22 by planting over 1000 trees and offering its community extra CHMPZ coins.

Participants in the presale will receive more CHMPZ tokens and a 2x bonus for their contributions once the increase benchmark is met by April 20th. Investors earn an additional 100,000 CHMPZ for investments under $75, 500,000 CHMPZ for investments between $75 and $150, and 1,000,000 CHMPZ for investments exceeding $250.

This is the kind of motivating incentive that Chimpzee supports, and the cryptocurrency market will undoubtedly see more of it in the future. The project is working together with the Onetreeplanted organization, and the project has already reached approximately halfway.

Be Part of the New Chimpzee Movement

Chimpzee is having a big impact on the cryptocurrency market and has the power to completely change how individuals think about taking part in crypto ecosystems. It is announcing efforts that highlight how cryptocurrency may be utilised for the benefit of all living things in addition to financial gain.

Chimpzee is unquestionably a project worth keeping an eye on because it has the potential to pioneer the developing trend of socially conscious projects. Check out the presale information as well as the specifics of the tree-planting initiative.

About Chimpzee

A initiative called Chimpzee seeks to address urgent problems like combating climate change and protecting wildlife while providing users with a passive income. The team has reserved 10% of the token supply as well as a share of the profits to donate to organizations that support these causes. Additionally, the project will provide financial support for Chimpzee's ambassador and community outreach programme. The team thinks this programme is essential for garnering awareness and money for conservation-related initiatives.
