

The Absolute Guidebook on How to Date in the Modern Age by Irina Taylor - 'Make Your Own Luck in the Game of Love'

Los Angeles, California Apr 25, 2023 (IssueWire.com) - It doesn't matter if you are in your 20s and went through a string of failed relationships, if you just got divorced and have kids, or if you are single 50+, there is love for you out there! A sad end to a relationship is just the beginning of a new chapter of your life. Dating is a learning process of trial and error, testing and failing, and learning by doing. You cannot leave your love life up to chance—you have to make your own luck. I, therefore, invite you to come on this journey of self-discovery and delve together into the details of how you can enhance your exposure to love and boost the probability of finding a new partner in this complex modern world we find ourselves in, by reading the step-by-step guidebook of Irina Taylor, entitled: 'Make Your Own Luck in the Game of Love: A Guidebook For Women On How To Date In The Modern Age'.

In the current age of cryptocurrency, self-driving cars, spaceships that fly to the Moon and Mars, and numerous other technological developments, one would think that the search for love would have become simpler.

We could have it all with just the click of a button. If you are craving a delicious pepperoni pizza, all you have to do is open an app on your phone and someone will deliver it right to your doorstep within the hour. Finding a partner or someone to share your life with should be just as simple, right? With all the dating apps out there, the choice should be larger than ever. You just set your parameters, pick the maximum distance, set the optimal age range, and that's it! Simply swiping on your phone from the comfort of your couch, you can create countless matches and get in touch with as many people as you like. It's that simple, right?! Well, not really!

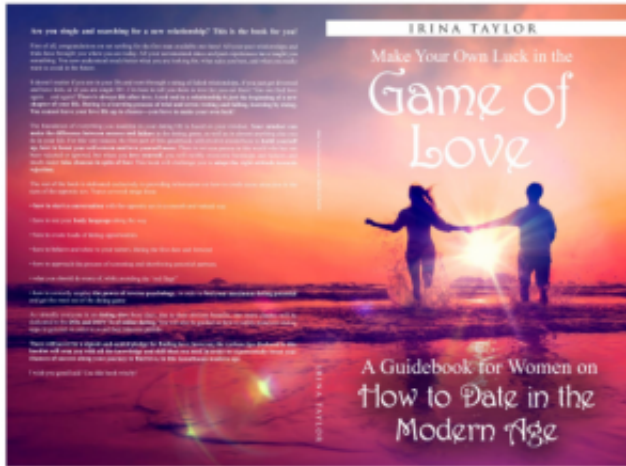

Statistics show that just over half of the American population is in fact single (WNYC Studios, 2022) and this number is only increasing as the years go by. Just to give a bit more perspective, numbers show that in the last century, the number of singles has tripled. Paradoxically, the infinite number of choices out there makes it even more difficult to find love. We are in search of the next best thing, and in the rush of it all, we forget to settle. And why settle when your dating app is signaling the next match?

Some people throw around the word love casually. For example, "Oh my goodness. I love your new hair!" Love has become cheap, and superficial, and sex has been reduced to something trivial. For some, the word love itself holds a lot of weight, expressing that love can oftentimes be difficult or maybe even impossible to find. 2

Regardless of the state of your love life at the moment, regardless of how many relationship dead ends you went through, I am here to tell you that there is love out there for you. Losing hope, isolating yourself at home watching some movie, or giving up altogether is not the solution. Every end is a new beginning. Whatever the situation, there is always a tomorrow, and the sun might shine even brighter than today.

No one said that this journey was going to be easy, but I can assure you that it will be worth it. The greater the challenge, the greater the reward; no risk, no return. In love and war, there are no guarantees, there are no rules. But if you're too afraid to throw yourself into the turmoil again, if you run away from taking risks and stay on the sideline watching like a spectator, remaining in your comfort zone, then you remove yourself from the biggest chance of them all—the chance to happiness. You owe it to yourself to fight for your fairy tale and arm yourself with all the knowledge and skills that you can, in order to win it big in the most beautiful, and also the most dangerous game of them all—the game of love.
