

Actor and Model Alberto Fabbretti Will Star in Upcoming Films and Appear in Print Campaigns for Victoria Vincent Brand

Los Angeles, California May 4, 2023 (IssueWire.com) - Alberto Fabbretti is a rising star in the film and modeling industry. Rumors are that soon he will work in several upcoming film productions and collaborate with fashion designer Victoria Vincent.

Recently, he appeared as one of the marching band's bagpipers in the movie Candy Cane Lane, with Eddie Murphy and directed by Reginald Hudlin. He played the role of a runway model in the romantic feature film Demise, directed by Yara Estrada, and the lead character Max in the horror short film "Neverworld", directed by Alexandra Samton. He then played an NYPD officer in the biographical drama Aftershock, which will be released later in 2023, an LAPD officer in the feature film Angie's Cure, and the role of a waiter in a scene of the film White Men Can't Jump, a remake of the 1992 movie. He is currently producing and starring in his own action short film, "The Adventures of Agent TJ".

Alberto is also a fashion and print model, set to appear in commercials and print ad campaigns for the fashion designer Victoria Vincent's clothing line, the Benison collection.

Throughout his fashion career, he has walked in the major fashion weeks in New York, Paris, Los Angeles, and San Francisco.

Alberto walked at NYFW Spring/Summer 2022, produced by IMG Focus, for the American designer Kenneth Nicholson, at Spring Studios in Manhattan. His look from the show has been featured in one of the world's most famous fashion magazines, Vogue Runway.

He walked at Paris Fashion Week S/S 2023 for the Filipina designer Chona Bacaoco, being featured in Harper's Bazaar España, Elle Italia, and Marie Claire Magazine.

He modeled in New York and Los Angeles for the international designer Elie Balleh.

He walked in NYFW S/S 2023 for Livalya and at San Francisco Fashion Week in March 2023 for designers Victoria Rainer and Bernard Edward Burns, being featured in Zero Creative Magazine.

His impressive runway career has also seen him modeling at Brooklyn Fashion Week for Adrian Alicea's and Zam Barrett's collections and at Atlantic City Fashion Week for Marayah Roher and Think Creative.

He appeared in commercials and ad campaigns for Baleaf Sports Activewear and Phyla Probiotic Skincare.

Alberto is currently producing and starring as lead actor in the action short film "The Adventures of Agent TJ". The film tells the story of a secret mission carried out by an undercover agent and, because of the plot's originality, the final product will certainly attract a large audience. Post-production is currently underway, and upon its completion, the film will be sent to film festivals across the US and internationally. But besides his own movie, the actor will star in several upcoming productions in the following years.

In addition to his work in the film industry, Fabbretti will be modeling for Victoria Vincent's Benison collection, appearing in commercials and print ad campaigns for the California-based fashion brand. The collaboration represents an exciting new chapter for the young actor and model, adding his name to the history of the already-known brand.

Fabbretti is no stranger to the film industry, having already landed roles in many film productions. His talents have already shown a huge impact on his career, garnering the attention and interest of many industry professionals.

For more information on Alberto Fabbretti and his upcoming productions, please visit his official IMDb page, website or follow him on Instagram and Facebook.

Contacts:

IMDb Page: <https://www.imdb.com/name/nm10696073/>

Instagram: https://www.instagram.com/alberto\_fabbretti

Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/albertofabbrettiactor>

Media Contact

Alberto Fabbretti

fabbrettialberto@gmail.com

Source : Alberto Fabbretti

See on IssueWire