An ill patient needed to be flown urgently from Patna to Delhi to be sent to a hospital. Angel Air Ambulance was contacted for help.

In an emergency, a patient in serious condition was transferred to our Angel Air Ambulance Services in Delhi with the best medical setup service at a very affordable charge. The patient in question, a middle-aged lady, endured a spinal cord injury that proved fatal, so she needed quick medical care. This lady was to be sent to Delhi, as it became apparent after consulting Patna experts. The Angel Air ambulance team left shortly after they received all the crucial details. When they landed in Delhi, the medical personnel quickly got to work and started delivering every medical treatment she sought while keeping her condition in check.

However, the patient's health deteriorated during the trip, forcing the crew to maintain their vigilance and follow the stringent regulations that were specifically devised for these kinds of scenarios. At Delhi, Angel air ambulance medical team continued administering the treatment that she needed up until she was stable after being transferred to the closest hospital. On the way, she gradually began showing indications of improvement and regained awareness. The patient underwent an assessment of her health before being sent back to her home in Patna in a secure and pleasant manner.
